- Fall 2023
- As a side project, I created a discord bot using Python that can join voice channels and play music.
- Named “Christmas Jazz Radio,” it can join voice channels and play Christmas Music when a user does a command.
- Also created a feature that creates a Christmas Countdown for a text channel that prints out the number of days left until Christmas every day at 6 AM, along with a random gif.
- Hosted the bot on my Raspberry Pi, so the bot is online 24/7 and automatically pulls changes from git and updates the bot using an executable script that I created.
